

Instructor Qualifications – Jesse Harvey, MS, PA-C, Clinical Associate Professor (Medical Doctor)

University of Texas (June 2022 – August 2025)

Jesse Harvey holds a Master of Science in Family Medicine from the University of Nebraska, a Master of Science in Biochemistry, and a Bachelor of Science in Biology from the University of Texas at San Antonio. He earned his Medical Degree from UMAN Medical School (Mexico) in 2021 and is a licensed medical provider in Texas. He currently serves as a Clinical Associate Professor (Medical Doctor) with the University of Texas, providing academic instruction, mentorship, and clinical training in medical education. Mr. Harvey's professional background spans over 20 years in emergency and trauma medicine, as well as advanced combat casualty care through his ongoing service as a Tactical Combat Medical Course Instructor with the U.S. Army. His civilian practice includes extensive experience in emergency departments and hospital medicine, working with institutions such as Baptist Health System (TX), Bellevue Hospital (NY), and Indian Health Service (Fort Yates). Certifications and Licensure: • Texas Medical License (Active & Current) • Texas DEA License (Active & Current) • ACLS, BLS, ATLS (Active & Current) • Member, American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA) Mr. Harvey combines academic leadership, medical instruction, and emergency medicine expertise to train apprentices in clinical reasoning, patient safety, and evidence-based care.